A Midnight Consultation in Prison New York, November 27.-A dispatch

Malone's Last Words and Demeanor.

It has been generally believed that Milton Malone would not suffer himself to be hung, but would put an end to his own existence by poison or otherwise, if it were possible.

Every precaution had been taken to prevent this result, but last night about eleven o'clock without having concluded their translation.

It is stated that cipher dispatches from Madrid have been received, upon which experts were busy up to 5 o'clock this evening, without having concluded their translation.

THE SPANISH IN CUBA DEFIANT. New York, November 28.—A letter from Havana says the people there would refuse to allow any order from Madrid to deliver Havana says the people there would refuse to allow any order from Madrid to deliver up the Virginius, or make other reparation for her seizure, and the execution of her crew is to be carried out. Preparations for defense are being actively pushed forward. Guns are being mounted at all suitable points. Advertisements appear in the different papers for an unlimited number of laborers to work on the arsenals. The volunteers have orders to drill two or three times a week.

The Vos De Cuba says, in regard to the report from Washington that Castellar has telegraphed to the Captain General to execute no more of the Virginius prisoners: "It is believed that Dawes will remain chairman of Committee on Ways and Means; Orth to be made Chairman of Committee on Ways and Means; Orth to be made Chairman of Commence with our laws. The Executive of the Spanish Republic has not sufficient power to lasue such an absurd order."

It says the Captain General of the Island, in order to extinguish rebellion has power to impose the death penalty on any one taken in the act of treason and force against the executive of the Spanish republic dare to govern in contravention of law and to over, red justice, exposing his authority to contempt merely to please certain foreign pirates.

I think that it oes, for there is no one ever commits a wrong act but what there is A LITTLE MONITOR WITHIN HIS BREAST that upbraids him, and he knows and feels that he has committed a sin, and no one will ever commit sin that follows the dictates of this little monitor, and our monitor is nothing but nature-it is natural for nothing more.

Yours truly, MILTON MALONE. HIS DISP. SITION OF PERSONAL EFFECTS.

On Thursday night, between nine and ten o'clock, Malone sent a message to John Wise, the jailor, saying that he ceated to see him. This was long before it was thought that he either had any poison upon his person, or even contemplated suicide. Wise went immediately to the cell and found him, as usual, pacing nerronaly up and down, with his pipe in his mouth. Jim Hinton, one of the guard, was also present during this interview. Malone then delivered to Wise the following He stited to Wise that he first desired his little dog to be given to "Sister Regiss." We may take occasion to state here that this "Sister Regiss" is one of a number of Sisters of Mercy who have frequently visited Malone during his imprironment. We give the name as nearly as it was remembered at the jall. The dog is a small black and ian terrier. It was given to Malone by Wise some time in last February, and has remained with him ever since in his cell. 'The greatest attachment existed between this dog and his unfortunate master. In speaking of him the tears were standing in Malone's eyes, while in delivering no other part of the will did he exhibit the slightest feeling. Since the death of its master, NUNCUPATIVE WILL.

ing and washing. Malone never lived on the prison fare. He had his meals sent to him regularly. His sheets, towe's, clothing, with which he was well rectly to his parents. Mr. Wise has faithfully observed the requests. The trunk and contents were sent off at four o'clock yesterday afternoon to the residence of Mr. DeWitt Seymour, on Pryor street, where his parents are staying. Alt of Malone's other legacles were also sent off during the afternoon, except the little dog.

Yesterday afternoon Wise received, through Col.
W. H. Botta, a message from Malone's sfilleted father, in which the latter instructed him to carry out his son's will to the very letter.

THE DISPOSITION OF MALONE'S BODY.

After the inquest had been completed the body was washed and neatly dressed in a full suit of black his friends h.re, into which the body was placed, and ivered to Mr. Betts about three o'clock. The cof fin was provided with a solid silver plate upon which was inscribed "Milton Malone, born in olumbus, Georgia, in 1842; died in Atlanta, Georgia fovember 28th, 1873." This plate was furnished by Mr. Seymour, who we learn, is an old family frierd of the Malones.

The body was taken to Columbus last nigh.
Thus ends the fearful drama. ROW THE NEWS WAS RECEIVED.

Considerable excirement was created early in the morning, when the rumor of the poisoning appead.

Persicious Purgatives,—The brilliant idea of half a century ago that the weak and alling could be bled, blistered and salivated into a condition of health and vigor is happily exploded; but violent and prolonged purgation is still, to some extent, in vogue. We have imposters who are daring enough to offer to the world, as tonics and restoratives, the most destructive cathartics, unmodified by a single stimulating, soothing, or restorative element. Compare the operation of one of these terrible nostrums with that of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, in which are combined the three great curative elements—a tonic, an alterative, and an aperient. The former completely paralyzes the vital forces, so that nature can make no resistance to disease; the latter sustains the strength of the patient, while it restores the suspended functions of the secretory organs and relieves the bowels without violence or pain. It is simply a choice between restoration and prostration. ion and prostration.
